NOTES FROM WASHINGTON

Udolpho Wolfe's Son & Co. Secure the Exclusive Right to the Trade-mark or Label "W. A. S."—The Imitation thereof is Felony.

It is learned from Washington that the United States Patent Office has granted, under date of October 9th inst, to the famous house of Udolpho Wolfe's Son & Co., the exclusive right to a label having the words "W. A. S." as applied to schnapps. This label has been used on the top of every bottle of the "Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps" for nearly ten years past, but it is only now that the title has been registered. It is done for the better protection of the house and their customers, and the reporter who writes this article learns that Messrs Udolpho Wolfe's Son & Co. intend to prosecute with the utmost severity of the law, all infringements upon their rights in this label. Their schnapps has been upon the market for forty years past, and it is now sold and used in every part of the World. There is no other article of the kind that is worthy of being compared with it, so great is its merit. Its purity is absolute and invariable, and this is the basis upon which its wonderful and world-wide popularity has been built up. In the hands of medical men it has worked wonders—and in point of fact it is one of the most valuable adjuncts to the modern "materia medica" at present known to science.

Owing to the enormous demand for this article, unscrupulous parties have been led to imitate, and in future, purchasers would do well to see that the letters "W. A. S." are on the bottle. To imitate this label is felony.

THE CRISIS IN FRANCE.

OUR INDIAN SUMMER.

London, Dec. 1st.

To-morrow being the 37th anniversary of Louis Napoleon's "coup d'etat" will perhaps be a troublesome day in Paris. At all events 100,000 soldiers will be under arms from sunset to-day until Monday, as there is a universal presentiment of stirring events. We are not told whether General Boulanger will be the prime mover or the victim. It seems that M. Flouquet had arranged a "coup d'etat" for last Monday morning, but repented at the eleventh hour, whereupon, the news having got abroad, the Opposition papers made a clamour about the business. It is denied by the Government, which makes people believe it all the more.

There is little use now in speculating what would be the condition of France at this moment if the "coup d'etat" prepared by MacMahon and Duke de Broglie in 1877 had come off successfully. The army was ready to shout "Long live Henry the Fifth!" the carriage and horses to bring him to Paris were in waiting, but the Count de Chambord obstinately refused to allow the army to keep the Tricolor, although MacMahon on the other hand consented for his Majesty to have the old worn-out white flag of the Bourbons, with the lilies, hoisted over the royal palaces. And so the arrangement collapsed, as Henry the Fifth died in exile, and MacMahon retired into private life.

Looking impartially at the matter now, after a lapse of eleven years, most people will say that MacMahon was right. These eleven years have been a long chapter of grief and discouragement for France. She has lost ground, and is still a prey to the uncertainty which is worse than civil war itself. A great and sweeping change is at hand, because the people are heart-sick of the present system. Notwithstanding all the ridicule that has been heaped on Boulanger everyone will tell you in France that he is the coming man. A few days ago Mr. Wilfred Blunt published a letter in the Times which admirably described the condition of affairs, at the same time giving credit to Boulanger for more pacific views than have heretofore been coupled with his name.

France has for 300 years played so active a part in European politics that any change of affairs at Paris has a great influence on the peace and prospects of surrounding countries. Hence the anxiety with which England, Italy, and other States regard the expected troubles of to-morrow. I am not sure that the army will oppose a Boulangist revolution if it occur. The Wilson business has injured the republic greatly in the eyes of military as well as civilians. And, above all, the wretched manner in which the finances have been handled fills the whole nation with disgust and doubt. The public debt is now supposed to reach 30 milliards, say 1200 millions sterling, which is nearly double the debt of the U. Kingdom, and France is by no means as rich as Great Britain.

The President of the Swiss Republic died yesterday from cutting his corns, and the expresions of regret that have been sent to the Federal Council from all parts of the world shew how much Switzerland enjoys the sympathy and good-will of other nations. But it is strange that the death of one of the European rulers should follow so trivial a matter as paring his corns. The moral to be drawn is, that we hold our lives on a very frail tenure, and that it is better to call in a chiropodist if you be a martyr to corns.

Very extraordinary results often flow from trivial causes. The Stuarts might still be on the throne of England if Charles I, or rather his police, had not arrested at Gravesend and brought on shore two young men, named Cromwell and Pym, who were emigrating to the N. American plantations. Gordon would have come off victorious at Khartoum if Gen. Wolseley had started from Suakim, instead of paddling on the Nile with his Canadian boatmen. And, to compare less things with greater, the people of England would scarcely have had a correct idea of the mode of Government in Ireland had not Serjeant Sullivan of the Mayo Constabulary marched into the house of Commons and interrupted M. Sheehy when making a speech by endeavoring to serve him with a writ. If such things are done in the House of Commons we may well imagine the treatment of Mr. Balfour's prisoners on their plank beds.

There was a long debate last night, on the case of a prisoner named Morony, locked up two years ago for refusing to give evidence in an eviction case. Eight months back the prison doctors reported his intellect failing, but the Chief Secretary saw no reason for his release:

Alas! Nor wife nor children more shall he behold;
Nor friends nor sacred home.

It is characteristic of the Cossack system now in vogue that the Government sees nothing wrong in any of these atrocities. This poor fellow Morony has been three times put on bread and water. He was a shopkeeper, worth £5,000 when arrested; he is now ruined in fortune, health and intellect.

Morony's case is like the hanging of John Brown by the slave-owers. It will awaken every honest man in England to the conviction that Slavery in Ireland is contrary to the spirit of the age, dangerous to the interests of the Empire, and forms a foul spot on the name of England that we must wipe out at any cost. This horrible case will mark an era in the Home Rule movement.

It is a long time since we had so mild a November as this has been. You might have thought it was Spring, and the morning papers tell us that primroses are in full blow in the wooded parts of Kent and Sussex. This is taken, moreover, as a favourable omen for the Conservatives whose strength has been fairly doubled by the invention of the Primrose League, especially in suall towns, where the Knights and dames boycott any tradesman of opposite tendencies.

Such uncommonly balmy weather is all the more remarkable as two months ago snow lay heavy on the unreaped wheat fields. There has been, however, a severe time in Ireland, and last week another evicted farmer, named Dunne, died from exposure. The campaign of eviction goes on briskly in the Emerald Isle. Several landlords actually in treaty with their tenants for the purchase by the latter of their farms are serving eviction notices, to bring pressure upon the poor people. Many of these are paupers, but the Government finds the money, and that is all the landlords want.

London is at present so crowded that the weather may have had some influence. It seems as if fewer people have gone than usual to the Sunny South. One may observe also groups of the Irish peasantry, who have been brought over as witnesses for the Times, and who are evidently much pleased with the great metropolis. They give evidence of numberless outrages, but frequently wind up by saying that "the Land League had no hand in them."

In the midst of this charming weather a number of American brides are causing commotion in England. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain are expected next Tuesday. Lady Herbert's son, Secretary of Legation at Washington, was married last week to an American heiress with £50,000. The Duke of Marlboro' with his new American wife arrived the other day at Blenheim but the Vicar refused to allow the church bells to be rung, as he inclines to Roman Catholic views on marriage and divorce. For this the Duke has stopped his subscription to the village school, and forbidden the Vicar to drive through the park.

There have been only two fogs this month, and the weather is specially favourable to invalids. John Bright, aged 77, was at death's door, and seems now in a fair way for recovery. Cardinals Newman and Manning are also much better. But some people are looking out for snow next month, as they say this weather is not over healthy. The old adage says that "a green Christmas maketh a fat churchyard."

MEMS OF ROME.

XV.

We had three letters of introduction to high church dignitaries in Rome, one to Archbishop Kirby, who was unfortunately absent in Naples, not to return for a fortnight, another to Abbot Smith, who was also absent, having been sent to Constantinople, and a third to Dr. ——, the director of the Vatican library, who was also away. Luckily our friend and companion, Dn. Domingo Cichero, who had almost founded and endowed the church at the Boca, obtained a letter from the Bishop of Turin to Monsignor Volfi, the Pope's secretary, who kindly gave us tickets of admission for the grand reception at the Vatican next day of the Cardinal and commission of pilgrims from Naples. It was a most happy coincidence, as it would never do to leave Rome without the Pope's blessing. We all hurried up to the Vatican on the following day, and as ladies are not allowed to wear bonnets and gentlemen have to go in full dress, our readers can imagine the preparations and purchases for the occasion. Mr. Coverdale, an English gentleman staying at the hotel with us, also got a ticket, so that our party from the hotel was pretty numerous. We had been told by Monsignor's secretary to go early, so as to get good places; the hour of reception was fixed at 12, but we went at 11 a. m. Judge of our astonishment when, as we approached the large square of St. Peter's, our carriages were stopped, such was the crowd of coaches before us. Ladies blazing in diamonds, officers in splendid uniforms, French, German, English, Turkish, Greek, all driving in carriages to the Vatican, whilst the crowd on foot blocked up the whole way. The Swiss Guard stopped us all at the portals of the Vatican, and we remarked that only those who went in full dress were received with attention and passed up to the grand staircase without difficulty.

To increase the difficulty, everyone carried crosses, beads, rosaries and medals to be blessed by His Holiness. We ascended the Scala Regia, which was guarded by the picturesque Swiss Guard of the Pope, and after passing lobby after lobby and flight upon flight of wide marble stairs, panting and tired we were ushered into the Sala Regia, which is used by the Popes as a hall of audience for Kings, Emperors and Ambassadors. It is richly decorated with frescoes illustrative of the history of the Popes. There we found officers of the Pope's Guard in the most gorgeous uniforms, and gentlemen with rosettes who took charge of the ladies to see that they had seats. We had been led to suppose that at most 200 people would be present, but the whole of the magnificent Sala Regia as we entered was full, over five thousand persons already seated, and many of them had been there since 9 o'clock in the morning. There were seats for the bishops from all parts of the world, seats for monks, seats for the clergy, seats for visitors in full dress, seats for ladies, nuns, etc. We found seats, not in the compartment for which we had tickets, as it was all full, so the usher placed us with some English-speaking nuns, one of whom fainted when His Holiness began to address the assembled multitude. Around the throne where the Pope sat one could distinguish the cardinals by their red caps. The hall was so large that only those who had opera glasses could well see the Pope or the grand church dignitaries assembled around his throne. After waiting for fully an hour, during which the hall became still further packed, there arose a great cheering and clapping of hands and the ladies waving their handkerchiefs, which announced the entry of the Pope into the Sala with his Cardinals.

Cardinal Felice, as spokesman of the Neapolitan pilgrims, read an address, not one word of which we heard, and then a solemn silence ensued and the Sovereign Poutiff arose and, advancing in front of the throne addressed the Cardinal, the pilgrims and the assembled visitors. We were so far off that we could hear but little of what His Holiness said. Dressed all in white, tall, thin and venerable, and with a clear, sonorous and admirable delivery, he looked every inch the Pope of our imagination. Nothing could be more solemn. We thought that it is only once in a lifetime it is given to one to assist at such a scene. Many times the allocution was interrupted by the most vociferous applause, but the crowning point was when with extended hands to Heaven he blessed the kneeling multitude. Verily, nothing in the whole world could be more impressive, and we were not in the least surprised when we learned afterwards from Mr. Coverdale that fully half the strangers present were protestants. After this the pilgrims ascended to the throne and were presented to His Holiness by Cardinal Felice, and then the Pope rose, apparently fatigued, and after a short prayer again blessed us all, after which His Holiness retired, and it took us a full hour to get out of the Vatican, such was the press of the crowd, the delays of nobles and bishops, patriarchs, counts and officers on the Scala Regia.

LONDON LETTER

(From our own Correspondent.)

GENERAL TOPICS.

Dec. 5th

The Tory government narrowly escaped a serious defeat and on a subject, which may in the end be serious for the country. The weak state of the Egyptian garrison at Suakim has long been known, but it is only within the last few days that the government made up its mind to send reinforcements including one battalion of a British regiment—the Scottish Borderers. The question of course is, are we entering upon another Soudanese war? or are we limiting our ambition to driving off the Arabs from the wells around the beleaguered city. In either case, it is contended that the number of troops sent is inadequate because a defeat in the plain near Suakim would entail another and costly war to restore our prestige, and a small victory could only secure a temporary relief. Osman Digma's dervishes would retire into the defiles in the high lands near the port where, with Egyptian troops strengthened by half a British regiment only, we could not follow them without running great risk of wasting the lives of our soldiers. It is further contended that we should try negotiations with the Arabs, who it is stated now by a high authority on Soudanese matters, a Mr. Fox, who offers to negotiate with them, are more anxious to buy and sell merchandise than to fight. This I remember was said years ago by an American gentleman, Mr. Pericles Green—Phœbus what a name!—and many are now of the same opinion. But it is here that a delicate question intervenes—what will the military say? Our fellows are spoiling for a fight. Hence Lord Wolseley is supposed to be very angry with the Tory Government for neglecting opportunities by sending so small a force to Suakim. All these contentions and many dire possibilities including the overturning of the Tory government and party, were placed before the House of Commons last night by Lord Randolph Churchill, who headed the opposition and a revolt and moved an adjournment. Had it been possible to force a division a little earlier, the government would have been beaten as they were taken unawares, and many conservatives followed Lord Randolph. As it happened, the Government whips scoured the clubs and streets, and Harlington rushed in to make a silly speech, not knowing a bit what had been going on, and with a reinforcement of Liberal Unionists at their back the government got a majority of 42. The Tory papers fiercely revile Lord Randolph, firstly for not giving due notice of his intentions to Mr. Stanhope, and secondly for making use of official dispatches from Suakim surreptitiously supplied by the military party—or a military "party" strongly suspected to be Lord Wolseley. However, this last aspersion is in a sort of way repudiated this evening. It will be brought under the notice of parliament. Lord Randolph is fighting his own game. He neglects no opportunity to reminding the cabinet that he is quite alive and is not in it. Had he a little stronger following he would be very dangerous. A defeat before Suakim would make him now master of the situation.

It is such a long time since any of us heard of Osman Digma, who has been killed by the newspapers so often that the Star is quite right in reminding us that he is a Frenchman—a M. Vinet, born at Rouen, where he received his early education, and was afterwards sent to a Paris school. When still a mere lad his parents went to Alexandria, and shortly afterwards his father died there. His mother then married a merchant of Alexandria named Osman Digma. This man became very fond of his step-son, George Vinet, and brought him up as a Mohammedan, sending him to complete his education at the military school at Cairo. Here he studied tactics and the operations of war under French officers Arabi was at the school at the same time.

It was at this period that his step-father migrated to Suakim, where he set up as general merchant and slave-dealer. He was soon doing a very lucrative business, and at his death Vinet carried it on under the same name. A few years passed, and when civil war broke out in Egypt in 1882 Osman Digma espoused the cause of his old friend and companion, Arabi, and became one of England's bitterest foes as the Mahdi's lieutenant.

In appearance Osman Digma is a fine looking man, tall and well proportioned, though rather fat. He wears a long black beard, and has lost his left arm.

At home, in the way of facts and occurrences little is stirring; one longs to touch the undercurrent but it is perhaps better to let it display itself in angry spouting and fizzes. Sir Frederick Leighton has been treating us to one of his long-winded orations on Art at the Art Congress. It is very interesting to be told although some of us knew it before, Sir Frederick reveals the fact in his orate language, that we are not an artistic people. We are a coarse, underfed, overworked lot, thinking more of a meal and a sleep than of pictures and music. He wants to get us to pay an army of art lecturers to instruct us. That wont do Sir Frederick. You might as well bellow into the belly of a bass fiddle. It will only give its own music. I am really more concerned about the great city of Liverpool itself in having in the year 1888-89 a Mayor who refused to preside at the Art Congress because he feared a proposition would be made to open art galleries and museums on Sundays. By the way, the most striking thing in the "monthlies" is Mr. Bent's article on St John at Patmos. It is by far the newest sensation in biblical criticism. The island where St John was imprisoned was called Thera—the Beast, and when he was there he was the daily witness of a terrific volcanic eruption historically known. His vision is partly founded upon what he absolutely saw. The "beast" is the volcano, as I presume the "Scarlet Lady" is after all fire; an interpretation which will rob a certain class of clerical disputants of an old and much-loved weapon. The subject is treated by Mr Bent with marvellous descriptive power, learning and ingenuity. Your readers of all shades of opinion will soon be discussing Mr Bent's article in the "Nineteenth Century" for this month. Another article of interest is Mr Stirling's in the Forthnightly on "The Political Outlook in Queensland." It appears that the objection to the appointment of Sir Henry Blake had little to do with the Irish Question. The squatter party in Queensland under the bluff Scotchman Mr MacIlwraith now premier, go in for "nigger" immigration and are not inclined to sacrifice sugar to loyalty to the mother country.

Robert Husband was brought up on remand to-day, before the Havant Bench, for the murder of Percy Knight Searle, on November 26th. The Prisoner, who appeared quite composed, was allowed to sit during the proceedings. The Court was crowded. The following evidence was adduced in addition to that given at the Coroner's inquest yesterday:—

Serjeant Knapton said the Prisoner was crying, "I have just thought of it, I saw another boy when I was crying 'Murder.' It was Charlie Rogers."

The Magistrate (to the Prisoner)—Have you any question?

Prisoner (firmly)—No, sir.

The Prisoner's father, who failed to attend as ordered, was sent for by the Magistrate, who told him that his son was in peril of his life, and that he should be present on his behalf.

Professor Meymott Tidy deposed that he had received some articles of clothing for examination. There were 35 stains, but no traces of blood except upon a shirt and pocket-knife, which was also sent with the clothes. The spots of blood on the shirt were more than a month old.

Cross-examined by the Magistrate, Witness said if the shirt was not washed or otherwise treated, he was convinced that the stains were old stains. The shirt did not bear appearance of having been recently washed (sensation).

Dr. Bond, recalled, stated that the Prisoner might have been able to inflict the wounds. It was entirely a matter of opinion.

Henry Wheeler, recalled, deposed that he did not take the knife in his own hands when the Prisioner offered it for sale on Monday. He could not say whether it was a small blade.

Anthony Lewis, surveyor, said that anyone standing against the wall in a ray of light could be seen from the point where the Prisoner stood.

William Farnden, labourer, said the Prisoner served him with coals at 4.15 on Monday afternoon.

The Prisoner—It was George who served you.

Witness (questioned)—I think it was his brother I paid for the coals.

The Prisoner's Father—What time did you pay for the coals.

Witness—Half-past five.

The Prisoner's Father—I was at home till six, and you had not called up to that time.

Mrs Farnden said she was at home on the night of the murder. The Prisoner did not call.

Cross-examined by the Prisoner, who asked whether her husband did not go to the door, Witness replied "No."

The Witness Smith, re-called, said he could not say if the blade had been sharpened since he saw it on the Friday previous to the murder.

Ethel Whitbread, seven years of age, deposed she saw from the opposite side of the street the Prisoner sharpening a knife on the morning of the murder.

The little boy Farnden's (eight years) evidence was rejected, he not knowing the nature of an oath.

Mrs. Searle said she knew nothing of any quarrel between the Accused and the Deceased.

The Magistrates, having deliberated for a few minutes, committed the Accused for trial at the next Assizes.

The Prisoner made a long statement as to what he says he did when he saw the murder being committed.

Railway Items

THE NORTH-WEST ARGENTINE RAILWAY—THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT AND THE GREAT SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

The Board of Public Works have submitted to the approval of the Executive the contract for the construction of the line known as the North West Argentine, Messrs. Portalis, Dupont and Co's concession.

Messrs. Lucius Gonzalez and Co. have paid to Government $20,000, balance due by them for implements, etc., of the Central Northern Line.

There is now considerable animation on the Provincial Railways, and several resolutions for the comfort of the public and their employees have just been passed by the Board, amongst which we can instance the following Renewal of 400 metres of permanent way between the 11 de Setiembre and Catalinas. Installation of a Telegraph office at Lomas de Zamora. The carrying out of the contemplated works at Lujan station and a new house for the station, master; demolition of the present store house and erection of a new one; repair of various lengths of permanent way. Large orders have also been given for the purchase of telegraph apparatus and immense quantity of Portland cement in Europe; also 15 portable telegraph apparatus on the Morse system for long distance trains. Various minor appointments have been made, and the salaries of certain officials increased.

We see by our La Plata exchanges that Governor Paz and his active Minister of Public Works, Dr. Gonnet, keep a sharp eye on the interests of the rural districts and lose no opportunity of promoting those interests. Not long ago the Provincial Railways adopted a low tariff for all country produce, and we believe the Railway Board went further still and issued instructions for the running of special trains to carry the produce of the dairy farm and the poultry yard for the markets. And now this official solicitude for the welfare of rural interests finds even a more accentuated expression in a note to the local Board of the Great Southern Railway, calling on that prosperous concern to effect a rebate in its freight charges. After a year of undoubted prosperity, and with the example before them of the reduced tariff of the state-lines, one would imagine that the Southern Railway Company would overlook the paltry question of increased gain, and instead of retarding, contribute to stimulate the growth and progress of the agricultural centres of the Province. This has not been the case. On the contrary, the Company, forgetful of the claims upon them, have actually raised their charges, on the pretext of counterbalancing the loss in exchange and keeping up fat dividends. It is therefore no wonder Governor Paz has found it incumbent on him to address a note, which is more a rebuke than anything else, to the local Board. In that note we find in parallel lines the tariff charges of the Southern Railway (recently increased 30 per cent,) and of the State lines. Mr Gonnet takes a 1000 kilograms, say a ton, and supposing it carried 300 kilometres, he finds the charges to be as follows:—

We shall not follow the Minister in his deductions from the foregoing figures, but it is sufficiently plain that so extortionate a tariff is calculated to shackle the rural industries of the Province. We may add that so vast is the Southern railway network, that half the province is dependent on that line for the carriage of its produce. It is to be hoped that the company will meet the views of the Provincial Executive on this knotty question of freights and thus avoid such unpleasantness as will undoubtedly arise from a refusal or a hostile attitude on the part of the local Board

CORDOBA CENTRAL RAILWAY.

THE LINE BEING WORKED WITH GOOD PROSPECTS. NO LACK OF TRAFFIC.

The second ordinary general meeting of the Cordoba Central Railway Company, Limited, was held yesterday at the offices Dashwood House, Old Broad-street, Sir Gabriel Goldney in the chair.

Mr. G. W. Hoghton (the secretary) read the notice convening the meeting, and the report of the directors was taken as read.

The Chairman said: I think both the shareholders and the board are safe in offering their congratulations to you at this meeting, which is practically the first meeting which has been held of the undertaking, the former meeting, although this is called the second, having been a mere statutory meeting for the purpose of complying with the requirements of the Companies' Acts. It may be desirable that I should refer a little to the nature of the undertaking, to the condition in which it stands, and to the very favourable expectations that we are entitled to indulge in from the present position of affairs. As the report explains to you, the contract with Messrs. Meiggs and Co. provided that the line should be completed and handed over on August 1, 1889- next year: but the contractors have been so diligent and so successful in carrying out the work, that not only will it be practically completed some considerable time before that, but it has been sufficiently completed to allow of the whole line being traversed by the governor of the province and various officials at so early a date as I think, September 5 last, and since about October 25 Messrs. Meiggs and Co. under a sub-contract made by the board with them, have been carrying on the traffic for the whole extent—that is taking the goods from the Northern Central into the province of Santa Fé, and carrying passengers the same course, much to the satisfaction of the inhabitans of the whole of that district, and to the great satisfaction of those interested in the undertaking, because it not only shows that the line can quickly develop the traffic, but their undertaking the work enables them to supply practically any deficiencies with regard to ballasting or any other matter while it is still under the direction of the engineer, and the reports that come to us and the reports that I have received this day from the engineer state that the traffic is going on exceedingly well, that the transit of the goods is made with very great celerity, and we have this further advantage, that Messrs. Meiggs and Co. have engaged a very competent gentleman as traffic manager, who undertakes that at the expiration of his time he will become the company's servant for a period of three years, so that before the time has expired for the completion of the line we shall have everything completed and put into our hands for the purpose of developing the traffic to its fullest extent. Cordoba is practically the very heart of the Great Argentine Republic. The length of the line is 212 kilomètres, and 8 kilomètres for sidings; to put it into English measure, 137 miles of rails, or 132 without siding. There are two very fine large bridges that have been, if not entirely, almost entirely completed. We have eleven stations; the four principal are the one at Cordoba, which cost between £43,000 and £44,000, another large station at Eltio, a third at Tranarto, and another at the junction with Santa Fé. The seven subsidiary stations cost on an average some £5,000 or £6,000 each; and, in addition to that, we have 14 houses erected near the permanent way for the use of our servants at Cordoba, and also at the Santa Fé frontier. We have a large stock of locomotives, covered wagons, and so forth, into the details of which I need not enter. As I have said, the first opening was on September 5, with the governor and permanent officials of the province, and the line was opened for traffic on October 18; and as I have also already stated to you, the manager who is carrying on the traffic has entered into a contract with the company at a very fair salary—a moderate salary I may say—for a period of three years. The concession and everything has been absolutely and formally transferred to us, and I may say further as showing the appreciation of the undertaking, that the number of shareholders at present on the books amounts to very nearly 300,287, so that the shares are diffused generally, and the public have appreciated the undertaking, and I have no doubt when the line is in full operation they will still further show their interest in it. The other matter that I shall have to move presently, after the reception and adoption of the report and accounts, is a special one: it is that the words in the articles of association, "Not fully paid up" be inserted in the fourth line of the 16th article after the word "shares." It arose in this way, we had a provision, that formerly existed in most articles of association, giving a lien in favour of the company on the shares; but the Stock Exchange required that that should be abrogated and fully paid shares should be clear, in order to get a quotation on the Stock Exchange, which is very desirable. On my promising that this should be done, the secretary very kindly undertook to give a quotation, and the Committee have granted the quotation. I do not know that I need add anything to my general remarks; I will therefore move: "that the report of the directors and statement of accounts now presented be, and they are hereby, received, approved and adopted."

Sir George Russell, M. P., seconded the motion.

A Shareholder: Is the contractor working our rolling-stock?

The Chairman: They are working under an arrangement our rolling stock, but we have a distinct agreement with Messrs. Meiggs and Co. that the rolling-stock shall be in full repair when it is handed over to us to the entire satisfaction of the engineer. The whole of the rolling-stock, when it is given up, is to be in as good a condition as the engineer requires; and the great advantage is that we are getting the traffic instead of having to wait for it, so that when we take possession of the line, we shall have a line in full working order.

A Shareholder. In the meantime we might hear what the traffic is doing.

The Chairman: Well, I cannot give you that, because it is not part of our province to enter into that matter. I may, however, mention that two people, very largely engaged in traffic and merchandise, undertook, if the line was opened at an early date, that they would supply a great quantity of traffic; and I have a report from the engineer that they are running three passenger trains and three cargo trains, on alternate days, and there appears to be no lack of either passenger or goods traffic. Of course, the traffic has to be obtained by degrees, therefore it would not be right to run more trains than are necessary. As the traffic increases Messrs. Meiggs will give all the facilities that are necessary.

A Shareholder: Could you tell us the amount of that traffic?

The Chairman: I have no report at all. We were very glad to get that arrangement made with Messrs. Meiggs, and later on I have no doubt we shall have some returns. Before we take the line over we shall have all the returns—tariff, and so on.

The Shareholder: That is what I mean.

The motion for the adoption of the report and accounts was then put and carried unanimously.

It was resolved:—"That the words 'not fully paid up' be inserted in the fourth line of the 16th article of the articles of association of the company, next after the word 'shares.'"

Messrs. Turquand, Youngs and Co. were re-appointed auditors at a fee of 50 guineas.

A vote of thanks was passed to the chairman for presiding and to the directors for their attention to the interests of the company.

The Chairman: Well, gentlemen, on behalf of myself and the board, I beg to return you our thanks. We have endeavoured, as I think the results have shown to carry out the undertaking with the greatest celerity, and at the same time to satisfy ourselves that everything is done to put it on a good, solid foundation. But I am bound to say here that the thanks of the shareholders and the board are due to Messrs. Meiggs and Co. for the great energy which they have shown, and their readiness to meet the directors in every reasonable requirement that was put before them. I believe they are doing everything for the purpose of developing the traffic in the most sound, substantial and beneficial way it is possible for men to do. They are largely interested themselves, and when we have the line handed over to us we shall have the great advantage of having a line which has been worked. We shall have the advantage of this through their zealous-tors, and of course ten times wo[rse] horses, jockeys, starters, steu[ards] looked even more stewed than [Montevideo] and the whole perspiring lot.

There was a British victory [at] Confiteria del Gas on Sunday ni[ght] the rain. An English gentlem[an] wife, soaked through, took re[fuge] establishment, and sundry [others] the dress of gentlemen thought proper [to] make insulting remarks about the lady's draggled appearance. Her husband "sailed in" at them, and three of them were sprawling before they could realize what [had] flash of lightning had not entered the [room] The other half dozen would have [done] the same fate but for the interfer[ence] the waiters and the proprietor, who [called] in the police. As the "blue" [arrived] in the cross door, at the [other] whole lot of ill-bred scamps bolted [out] the Calle Rivadavia door up that [street] in the midst of the deluge; whilst [the] victorious countryman, the proprietor and even the policeman joined in a hearty laugh at the sudden conclusion of [the] unpleasant affair.

Stays are almost as ticklish a subject as garters; nevertheless we feel it a duty to publish the following paragraph from a medical exchange; it may be of great hygienic use to mothers of families in the physical rearing of their daughters:—

"Even when a corset is not tight enough to compress internal organs, it prevents the external muscles of the body from acting as they ought, so that in time they become feeble from want of use, like the muscles of an arm which has been bound up in a splint. There are about seventeen little joints, so, in the spine, which are more or less immovably fixed by the wearing of a stiff whalebone down the back, so that it is difficult to understand what people mean who insist that loose stays can do no harm. If a garment that is fixed over those flexible joints is either tight or stiff, it must do some harm, and if it is neither one nor the other, it cannot be called a corset."

A Danish officer, Captain Holstein, has just invented a protective shield to be used by skirmishers and sharpshooters in the field. The Holstein shield is made of steel plates thick enough to be proof against rifle balls; and two men carrying four of these plates can easily join them together in a few seconds, and thus form a more complete defence for themselves than sharpshooters have hitherto found in such improvised shelter as trunks of trees or heaps of stones. Those who have seen Captain Holstein's invention say that it reminds them of the shields used by the Assyrian soldiers of old which are to be seen carved on the bas-relief; brought from Nineveh or elsewhere.

"Los Negros del Plata" is the name of the crack— or aspiring to be the crack—comparsa in the Carnival in Rosario. It is really quite extraordinary how the genius of such whites as condescend to Carnivalesque tricks invariably runs to the disguise of a negro face. No doubt the woolly-heads would vastly like to turn themselves into Aryans for the Saturnalia: but white paint is far more difficult to apply than black.

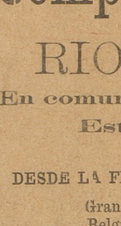
Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE
(Ex Army Medical Staff)
IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE
REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE



CHLORODYNE This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates health action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensive.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests these too often fatal diseases—Diphtheria, Fever, Croup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout Cancer Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from the ease with which we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all classes."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J. Collis Browne on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Gold going up the scale, as if hoisted by a petard, and stocks all wavering and weak, present a far from hopeful aspect for the opening of the week. With regard to the premium there seems no prospect of its coming down to any reasonable figure even this month. Fluctuations of course are inevitable, and may perhaps take the quotation back to 147, but lower than this is almost out of reckoning or consideration, unlessome unforeseen circumstance turn up at the last moment to upset all calculations. For next month the rate is hard still at 149, with buyers clamorous and sellers indisposed. Thus all the straws on the current are pointing out an upward course with a persistence and clearness that leaves no hope of escape or outlet for the unfortunate bears. In the stock market there seems little disposition to bull shares of any description. Even the sovereign stock is neglected. The Credito Real shares are reported to be undergoing a "bearing" process in which a syndicate figures as the promoter. The favorite Cedulas are drooping and depressed after what promised at one moment to be a most sweeping reaction. All round in fact the stock market is dull and flat and will continue so unless the banks take very vigorous and liberal action in the question of discounts.

Operations in gold at the first ring amounted to a little over 1½ million, of which almost the whole lot was divided between cash and end of month. For latter date 1,015,000 was disposed of, opening at 148.20 and rising to 148.80, fluctuated about that rate up to the close, finishing up with buyers over. For cash 400,300 were taken up, opening at 148½ rising to 148.90 and closing at 148.80, the same rate as for end of month. For end of February a few sales were effected at 149, but there was a decided lack of sellers, and little or no business was done. A few hundred National Bank shares were noted sold for end of month at 272. Credito Real shares in the beginning improved from 165 to 167, but fell off and closed weak at 164. Two lots of Italian Bank shares, a stock rarely seen on the board, were disposed of at the splendid figure of 240. Other stocks were more or less neglected. Cedulas were weak.

Shareholders of the Banco de la Bolsa are notified that the Board have resolved to make the first call of 50 per cent. on the shares, payable from 8th to 20th inst. The General Poblacdora Board have also resolved to call in the third payment of 25 per cent on their shares; as 45 per cent. is already paid up, this will raise the scrip to 70 per cent. nominal value. To-morrow the term expires for depositing shares to qualify for attendance at the Spanish Bank meeting, fixed for the 28th inst. The 15th inst. is marked for the meeting of the shareholders of the Flores Constructor Company; it is reported that the principal object of the meeting is to consider a proposal to increase the capital, which now stands at a million dollars; two substitutes to replace Messrs. Pasman and R. P. Muniz on the Board will also be elected.

The s.s. Dilsberg cleared from San Nicolas yesterday for Liverpool with a frozen-meat cargo from Terrason's establishment, made up as follows:—
23,225 frozen wethers
17,585 frozen tongues
9,700 kidneys

The s.s. Napoli left Genoa on the 3rd inst. for the Plate with 700 passengers and 500 tons cargo.

The s.s. Rosario passed St. Vincent on Saturday en route for the Plate from Genoa; the Guildford passed same day, also bound for the Plate.

The s.s. Araucania, Pacific packet, left Rio on Saturday, being expected in Montevideo on Wednesday, where she will be quarantined for two days.

At Constenla's land auction yesterday in Ramos Mejia, there was a very large attendance of buyers and brisk bidding. The lots realized on an average $5 cents the square yard, purchasers being Messrs E. Gelly, Ramos, Sala, Julio Figueros, Ercilio Banuchel, Jaciuto Rosi, F. Panigazzi, R. Recaldoni, Duvante y Roca and E. Sanguinetti.

In camp transactions the sale is reported of a ½ league in Vecino partido, belonging to Mr. Rodriguez, for 35,000 dollars, the highest price yet paid for land in that quarter. Mr. Wm. Newton buyer. 300 squares in Ensgado belonging to a testamentaria fetched 26,100 dollars at auction, buyer Mr. Mariano Biats.

From Vecino it is reported that a terrible cyclone swept over the town, carrying away several houses, and destroying a large portion of the crops. The losses are very large, and the strength of the storm may be gathered from the fact that some heavy railway waggons were blown clean off the track.

The s.s. Bremen, of the Gellatly line, from Antwerp, arrived at Buenos Aires to-day.

By mistake in our last issue, we stated that Mr. Peake held power-of-attorney for Messrs. Clark, Curtin and A. S. MacNally. Mr. Peake is accredited by Mr. MacNally alone.

Business at the second hour was a trifle weaker than in the moning, and the premium ruled much stiffer, closing at 149.30 for to-morrow. For end of month a sale was marked just as the bell rang at 148.90, but there were buyers offering 20 cents higher. Stocks all round were tottering and more or less neglected. Cedulas were quiet

In the produce markets it is thought that the bottom point in depression has been touched, as the flat feeling peculiar to end of year is beginning to disappear, whilst prices, due to the rise in values have improved say 15 cents all round. This morning the rain prevented any business in the plazas; arrivals are fair.

In the exchange market brokers report nothing offering. Rates are somewhat weaker, being quoted at 47¾d. London, 501 francs Paris, 5.02-02½ francs Antwerp, and 4.03 marks Hamburg.

A notice was posted on the black-board announcing that the inauguration of the first Section of the port had been postponed until further notice.

The decree was signed by the President to-day ordering the sale of certain National properties in the city of Rosario, to wit: the edifice formerly occupied by the Escuela Normal de Maestras, situated in Calle Rioja, between B. Aires and 25 de Mayo; the quinta confiscated from the Paraguayan government, situated in the suburb of the city; that part of the Colegio Nacional grounds unoccupied. Due particulars will be set forth in the Rosario newspapers. The auctioneers are Messrs. Ramon Gomez and August Iriane, who will receive a commission of 2 o/o. The auction will be held in Rosario.

The port works are being pushed ahead with the utmost activity, and it is reported that the total excavation in the basin embraces 959,908 cubic metres, and in other corresponding works 66,715 cubic metres. The value of the works not completed was of course discounted in the liquidation certificate.

The news of the evening was the arrival of the German steamer Weser from Bremen with 1000 tons cargo, 8 first class passengers and 1078 IMMIGRANTS. A thousand stout Teuton farmers are a great gain for the Republic, but a greater gain still is the accomplishment of the first step which may lead to so many more in the same direction. The Plate will bound in earnest when we have the German steamers, like the Italian, bringing us more bone and muscle than olive oil, or the latest Paris fashions.

The following is the list of passengers sailing to-morrow per R.M.S. La Plata:—Mr. and Mrs. Roache, Miss Hallan, Mr. Cross, Mr. R. P. Brownell, Mr. and Mrs A. O. Le Male, Mr. Jewell, Mr. Bomford, Mr. W. G. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Mackintosh, Mr. Hayter, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchison, Mr. E. Day.

In saladero items the sale is reported of the product of 3000 animals under salt, "buena gordura" á "gorda" quality, for Brazil, buyer a firm in this market; seller Uruguayan saladerista. Both price and delivery are kept in reserve.

Tucuman, the garden of the Republic, seems to be out of favour this year with the wind and weather gods. The last hurricane spread desolation amongst the farmers and played havoc with the crops, which it is thought will prove a total loss. Cane, tobacco, maize and rice are all destroyed.

San Luis advices announce the appearance in that province of several Chilian cattle-buyers who are all purchasing largely and at most remunerative prices for the home market.

Paraguayan Statistics shew that, fast as that republic is progressing now she is still far behind her status anterior to the war. The population now numbers 230,774 souls, of which 221,378 are natives, 4,895 Argentines, 825 Italians, 530 Brazilians and 476 Germans; in 1857 the population was estimated at 1,337,448, so that seemly the war cost Paraguay a round million of her sons. During Lopez' term of Government instruction made rapid strides. At least 80 o/o of the population could read and write; now scarcely 20 o/o are on that footing. Agriculture fares equally badly, the area of land under cultivation falling off from 550,000 acres to the bare 158,000 acres of to-day. The bright side of the picture is the marvelous recuperative powers of this ill-fated land. Since 1876 the live-stock has increased three fold, numbering now 736,000 head of cattle, 62,000 horses and a large number of other varieties. With regard to her financial circumstance is the acknowledged consolidated foreign debt amounts to 4½ million dollars, the internal debt being extinguished. The monthly revenue is assessed at a million dollars.

The Secretary of the North Western of Uruguay Railway has arrived in the Plate for a short stay, connected with the business of this important line.

Rosario advices announce the arrival in port of the Nevesa with 35,000 cut paving stones from Odonia for the paving of the city. The Italian steamer Solferino has loaded 10,000 hides for Genoa. The Sirabo is receiving for Rio Janeiro 10,000 bags of maize, an article already shewing sign of giving out in this market and quoted at 45 to 50 cents the arroba. The Amadeo, Brenda, Freda, Bede, Rios and Handel are also loading cereals in port and will fill up in San Nicolas and Campana with frozen meat. The paid up subscription on the shares of the Banco de Santa Fé and Colonias already exceeds a million dollars. Large lots of wool are going forward to B. Ayres from the Province. Houses are going up all over the city, and three capitalists alone have applied for the necessary permit to build 49 houses, most of them of two storeys.

Dr. Adolf Bullrich's auction of Centro Agricola lots in Alfalfa station T.C.S. came off yesterday, realizing from 58 to 90 dollars the hectare. The auction is being continued to-day with a large attendance of buyers and brisk animation in bids The results, as can be seen, are most promising.

Advanced dentistry
Professor Horsey's
North American system of inserting teeth without plates
This noted specialist has been with us for the past four months, during which time he has performed hundreds of operations for the most prominent and leading citizens of this Republic.
By this process where only a few roots or stumps of old teeth remain the "bridge work" obviates the necessity of wearing plates of any description.
It is permanent, cleanly, and natural in appearance; and the operation as compared with filling or extracting teeth is painless. It restores broken or badly decayed teeth and roots, to life long usefulness. All are invited to call and examine this incomparably beautiful work.
It is the greatest step in advanced dentistry and the best the dental profession has yet made. A descriptive pamphlet of this process may be had on application or sent by mail to any address.
